Anniversary and Charity Event to be Held at Swaders

PRINCE GEORGE – Swaders Sports Park will be hosting a mini golf tournament on July 16, 2009 in celebration of ESPN Radio 950's five-year anniversary of the show "Hardly Workin'" hosted by Greg Burton. The proceeds of this event will be donated to Commonwealth Autism Service. This family-friendly event will be held from 3 pm to 9 pm.

Swaders is waving the cost of mini golf in exchange for a $5 donation to Commonwealth Autism Service, a local non-profit organization which raises awareness and gives aid to families affected by autism.

Greg Burton will be broadcasting his Hardly Workin' radio show live from Swaders from 4 pm to 7 pm. This month marks the fifth anniversary of his daily show that focuses on local sports. ESPN 950 will have drawings for prizes, giveaways and a grand prize for the tournament winner.

Tammy Swader of Swaders Sports Park and Greg Burton of ESPN 950's radio show Hardly Workin' evaluate the two 18-hole mini golf courses in preparation for the charity event on July 16, 2009 to celebrate Hardly Workin's fifth anniversary.

"We chose to host our celebration at Swaders because they have been very supportive of local sports and a wonderful partner in our mission to promote local sports," explained Greg Burton. "They are the premier family entertainment complex in central Virginia."

"Autism affects 1 out of every 150 people and their families which is more than 1.5 million people in America," said Tammy Swader, director of marketing and co-owner of the sports park. "As a mother of a child on the autistic spectrum, we are honored to support this truly worthy cause."

Swaders is a family-friendly sports park located in Prince George County, VA, at the intersection of Temple Avenue and Puddledock Road. The park also features other attractions such as go-kart tracks, a multilevel laser tag arena, more than 50 arcade games, an indoor playland, batting cages, a driving range that was voted one of the Top 100 Driving Ranges in America and on-site lessons with a golf pro.
